

Kallie Adair

Kallie girl,

The youngest Adair sister is graduating. Whoa! As I think back on watching you grow up, I laugh, I cry, I am annoyed, I sing and, I have the urge to dance and be sassy. You have a baby sister BOLDNESS that has always surged through you in order to keep up with us and be noticed as you were dragged from one event to another. (Our little mini-me that we all adore ;)) I know how scary this thing called "growing up" can be. It's a mixture of excitement and fear of the unknown, but use those emotions to pursue the Lord and His guidance and plan for you. Also, know that you have an older sister that so badly desires to encourage you, love on you, and be there for you as you tackle life. Proverbs 31: 25 says, She is clothed in strength and dignity and she laughs without fear of the future. I love you and am praying for you. Your sister in Christ

Kayla

Lil sis,

It is hard for me to wrap my head around you being a senior. Time has seriously flown by, but all that time has been full of laughs and memories we both will never forget. From all the days of softball games to now, us playing our senior seasons. It seems so unreal to think about. You are supposed to stay little and not be growing up. Even though now when we are together we are always asked which is older, which is kinda embarrassing for me. I always wish the best for you and your future. In Hebrews 11:1 it says, "Faith is being sure of what we hope for and certain of what we do not see." I know you can't see your future, but I promise to always be your CHEERLEADER even though that skill and desire skipped me.

Live life abundantly. I love you sis!!

Madi

Lil "Bit",

As a mom, I was caught somewhere between not being able to believe my third little girl is nearly grown up and wanting this year to be one of the highlights of your young life. Because I know after your senior year is over, life will begin to change at a rapid rate. Graduation is a milestone event! We are so very proud of you as we watched year after year of your continuation of showing your Warrior spirit and beautiful smile as a SHS cheerleader. It was so hard watching that last game on Varner field as the time was ticking down to the end of the season and watching that last pep rally in the gym as you did the "Fight Song". Those are memories we won't ever forget!

WHO you are matters more than what you can do! And what will define YOU - is the choices you will make! Remember to keep GOD first and the rest will follow. Our prayer for you: "Let her walk in the security of Your assigned worth to her. Give her a strong work ethic and health to accomplish all her tasks. Give her a heart that desires to extend her hand to those in need. Protect her for the right husband, a man of respect and godly honor. And let her be a woman of joy and laughter whose Christ-centered character is what makes her most beautiful." (Proverbs 31) YOU are beautiful inside and out and we will always be your #1 CHEERLEADERS!! We love you always!

Mom and Dad

136

8

Job# 17154 School Senatobia Jr-Sr High School 5/25/16 1:10 PM

136

Even Page

Black Ink

Includes Spot Color(s)

Process 4 Color (CMYK)

eDesign Template

eDesign L
©2007 Herff Jones, Inc.,
All Rights Reserved

Submitted