JOURNALISM: FALL TRAINING WORKSHOPS

North & South Miss. workshops offered

Scholastic publications are important, and we know that creating a high-quality newspaper, yearbook, website, school broadcast or magazine is no easy task. So we're here to help! MSPA is offering two regional workshops this fall that will help your staffs reach their full potential. At each workshop, students will have a chance to learn valuable skills from professional journalists, college journalism professors and other industry leaders.

REGISTRATION DUE SEPT. 6.

All high schools are invited to participate, even if you're not yet an MSPA member.

TO REGISTER: Complete this form in its entirety and mail your registration fees to the address above. Make checks payable to MSPA/University of Mississippi at $16 per student (Advisers are free). All payments are non-refundable, but students' names can be switched if needed. Breakfast and Lunch are included in the fee.

JOURNALISM is about STORYTELLING.

Our theme this year is storytelling. Sign up for one of the workshops below & let MSPA help you tell the stories of your school and community even better than before.

Mark which workshop you will attend and list the # of students for each track.
