

If You Really Knew... The Presidents

Being Student Body

President is a true honor. Knowing that my peers elected me to a position of leadership makes me strive to represent them in the best way possible. Being Student Body President has been an amazing experience and I am proud of all of the contributions I have been able to put forth alongside the rest of student council to better our school.

The responsibility that

I've had this year has been especially meaningful to me because of the class I've gotten to represent. Having spent my high school career with the class of 2019 has shown me just how incredible this group of individuals is, and having been chosen by them to help make their senior year great has been a very gratifying experience.

Q & A

1) What does it mean to you to be President?

2) What would be the first fun thing you'd do as President of the United States?

3) What will you miss most about being a part of OHS student government, and why should others take part in it?

As President of the United States I would first hope to create an atmosphere of bipartisanship in the government... and I would also like to go to Area 51 very early in my presidency.

I will miss being able to suggest ideas that I can actually see happen at my school. Others should participate in student government because suggesting ideas actually leads to visible impact on OHS and the community of Oxford. Student Council members can be the voice of others within the walls of OHS who might not usually be heard.

I think that my favorite part of being on student council is being able to see the decisions that we make affect OHS in real ways. You'd be surprised as to how many of our decisions really influence the student life at Oxford High School. Being a part of OHS student government is very much a real and fulfilling role to play, and I'd encourage everyone who feels they could make a difference to take the steps to participate.

Send distress calls to secret service and then hide.
