

Porcelain Face

At a distance, I see a porcelain doll, the contrast of her jet-black hair and her pale white complexion.
The porcelain face shows age, an eggshell ready to break from the hand of a child.
I approach the old doll and I see your face.
Treated with care,
but you always managed to break.
