The smell of burnt hairspray and perspiration lingering in the halls is always a sure sign that show choir season has arrived. However, Reveillon was not sure that this stressfully joyous time would ever arrive. Their competition show, “A Million Dreams,” was a timely tribute to the many longings and desires the performers had returning to the stage. The season began with hosting the annual Show Choir Masters Competition in January, followed by a sweep in the virtual Show Choir LIVE competition by winning first place in the small division as well as the caption awards of Best Vocals, Best Choreography, Best Set, and Best Soloist for senior Bradley Stafford. Reveillon then traveled to south Mississippi competing in their first in person competitions at Petal and Oak Grove High Schools where they took home second place in the middle division from both and a respectable fifth place overall at Petal. The season culminated with a long-anticipated trip to Orlando to perform at Universal Studios with three extra days to enjoy the parks. The season finished off when Reveillon competed in Madison Central’s Deep South Classic with a first place in their middle division and fourth place overall. Senior Kalyn Giesecke said, “The special friendships and team skills I have learned after coming to Prep and joining show choir last year are something that I will forever cherish and take with me far past the confines of performing and high school.” With or without masks, the performers learned to adapt and conquer despite the many obstacles.
